

I believe that if I want to give money to someone or buy something that I have a right to make a decision without being called by someone. These people call from between 8AM to 9PM. I feel that they can send something in the mail and if I want to respond I will. I do not like being pushed into a decision within minutes of a call.